BSD SpecLink

Revolutionize the way you work, by seamlessly linking Revit models with specifications to enhance collaboration.

The days of being restricted to word processing files are truly over. SpecLink Cloud allows you to harness the power of the most innovative specification-writing platform on the market.

SpecLink Cloud helps you:
Save time.
Save money.
Get it right.
Every phase.
Every time.

"The most important benefit is a higher level of quality control. It will improve coordination between specs and drawings."

Talking about SpecLink Cloud

SpecLink Cloud helps you work smarter, faster and better through:

Cloud collaboration

It's never been easier to keep your entire team on the same page throughout the design and review process. Comment on projects and easily coordinate plans and specs from a common data environment.

BIM integration

Dramatically simplify coordination between specification writers and designers working in Revit. Seamlessly connect specs and models within SpecLink so you can visualize and adapt to changes as the design evolves, and easily monitor their impact.

3D virtual walkthroughs

Enhance visibility among your project team with an interactive, 3D experience. View embedded BIM objects, and isolate individual objects or layers within the model. Access your model from anywhere – without the cost of additional Revit licenses.

Designed to make your job easier

SpecLink was created by people like you: architects, engineers and specification writers determined to improve the specification process – and move the industry forward.

We know about the challenges you face daily, because we've been there. Which is why we created:

- ■ Intelligent links
- ■ Editing by inclusion
- ■ Automatic updates
- ■ Context-sensitive notes
- ■ Customized Office Masters

The database difference

Unlike word processing systems, SpecLink is built upon an intelligent SQL database that contains thousands of documents, sources and links. This robust content is updated daily by our internal team of expert specification writers.

SpecLink's intelligent database helps you edit significantly faster, minimize errors and omissions, and dramatically improve your efficiency and accuracy.
